REVENUE ESTIMATING CONFERENCE

Tax: Corporate Income Tax
IssuE: Employee Fitness Tax Credit
Bill Number(s): SB1230
Sponsor(s): Senator Margolis
MONTH/YEAR COLLECTION IMPACT BEGINS: July 1, 2006
Date of Analysis: December 2, 2005

Section 1: Narrative

a. Current Law: At present the current law gives no tax credits for corporations who promote employee fitness programs.
b. Proposed Change: Corporate taxpayers would be allowed credits against any tax due for a taxable year based on a percentage of the expenditure and the type of expenditures used to promote employee fitness. A tax credit of $10 \%$ of the total expenditure will be granted for equipping, operating, and maintaining a fitness facility on-site or located else where. A credit of $10 \%$ of the total expenditure will be granted for equipping and providing any related financial support for an amateur athletic team. A tax credit will be given for $10 \%$ of half the costs of employing a qualified person to instructs employees about fitness on the taxpayer's premises. The tax credits cannot exceed $50 \%$ of the tax due in any taxable year and cannot exceed $$ 50$ per employee.

SECTION 2: DESCRIPTION OF DATA AND Sources

U.S. Census Bureau - Estimates on number of corporations, number of employees, and number of establishments

Premier Health & Fitness Center- Estimate of an annual membership
Fitness Pro - Estimated cost of equipping a fitness center
Fitness Equipment Superstore - Estimated cost of equipping a fitness center

SEction 3: Methodology (IncLude assumptions and attach details)

1. Assume there is an adoption lag of $50 \%$ for the first year due to the small size of the tax credits.
2. Assume that the more employees a firm has, the greater its propensity to spend money on corporate fitness programs.
3. Assume the average cost of equipping a fitness center is $$ 20,000$.
4. Assume the average additional cost of operating an off-site fitness center is $$ 10,000$.
5. Assume the average cost of equipping an amateur team is $$ 600$ and other operational costs are $$ 250$.
6. Assume the average cost of a qualified fitness instructor is $$ 150$ per class.
