- Different states have varying provisions on who is allowed to grow medical marijuana: patients, caregivers, cultivation centers, or dispensaries or a combination thereof.
- Most states that currently have medical marijuana allow dispensaries for the purchase of the product. In addition, caregivers or cultivation centers may be allowed to sell in some states. Caregivers are sometimes not explicitly allowed to sell and in some cases prohibited from receiving compensation. They may only be allowed to recoup costs of materials and supplies but not labor.
