General Revenue Collections for September 2025 (Sales Tax Data Reported is Unaudited)

General Revenue collections for September 2025 showed a loss of $-27.5 million (-0.7 percent) against the forecast adopted by the General Revenue Estimating Conference (GR REC) in August 2025. The loss was almost exclusively attributable to lower-than-expected Corporate Income Tax collections.

After adjusting total Sales Tax collections for local taxes and distributions, audits, bad checks and transfers to Sales Tax from the Communications Services Tax, Sales Tax GR was $93.2 million (3.4 percent) above the estimate for the month. September collections reflect activity that largely occurred in August with several factors likely behind spending that roughly matches the levels seen one year ago. Continuing its recent trend, the latest CPI report shows the all-items index rose 3.0 percent for the 12 months ending September, after rising 2.9 percent over the 12 months ending August. While they undoubtedly also played a part in this result, the September personal saving rate and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York's Quarterly Report on Household Debt and Credit for the third quarter of 2025 are not available because of the federal shutdown.

All six of the sales tax categories were over-estimate for the month, but three of them were within the plus or minus one-percent range normally attributable to noise.

- Consumer Nondurables...gaining $67.8 million (8.3 percent) to the estimate for the month.
